He gave out the following statement: "I have no policy except as one may be developed as the result of such investigation as will be made from now on. I have no friends to reward, at Chicago. no enemies to punish, nor any desire but what is best for the interests of the property, as investigation will show. I intend to bring no one from the outside until ail MONUMENTS-M. H. FARRELL, 241 West material here has been exhausted."

The Vandalia's Advance in Wages.

Much friendly comment is heard on the fact that the management of the Vandalia voluntarily increased the wages of engineers, firemen, conductors, brakemen and It is said to be the intention of President charged everything which is defined by baggagemen on both passenger and frieght Stickney, of the Chicago Great Western, to the statutes of Indiana to be a cause for Sentenced to Indiana Reformatory, one to three trains for all divisions. The advance is trip, and covers regular and hour basis for extra. In this connection it will be remembered that the Vandalia did not reduce wages of trainmen in 1894, William R. Keen, then president of the road, declining to take any steps in that direction while other roads were cutting wages 10 per cent. That the Vandalia men appreciate the advance at the present time is evident from conversations with the men who were benefited. The Vandalia has always stood in the front in protecting its men both in wages and service, and much of the credit is given to the influence of William R. McKeen, who is still a director of the company. Receiver Malott is in favor of paying men good wages for services rendered, taking the ground that the service is improved by such policy.

May Stop Shippers' Passes.

Representatives of a number of railroads which maintain offices in Western stockyards have been notified that an order is to be issued cutting off all return passes to shippers of live stock and such orders are looked for on the 1st of January. To say that shippers are surprised over such action on the part of the railroads is not exaggerating the matter, and they say that the plan to require return fare from a shipper who sends a large consignment of stock to Eastern markets is an imposition on shippers to nearer markets. They use the argument that a passenger train must be run whether filled or not, and say there are but few occasions where the number of shippers inconveniences passengers.

New Regulations for Flagmen.

The Illinois Central put into effect on Nov. 1 a new order intended to protect the lives of employes as well as to surround trains with increased safety. The latest or- ending Oct. 31, 1892, the total collections der requires all flagmen kept back to protect trains from rear-end collision to remain standing until they receive orders from their superiors. In the past it was found that flagmen sit down, fall asleep and are even killed sitting down and waiting for trains and also, when they have been aroused in time to save their own lives, flags have not been displayed to avert collision. Hereafter flagmen must take a position in the center of the track so that engineers will have no difficulty in discerning

The story of the case is that while Mrs. Barnett was traveling through the State of Kentucky in 1901, inspecting the schools, she met the plaintiff, who was a supporter of the schools there. In the course of the conversation, Mize asked Mrs. Barnett what her husband's occupation was, and, being told that he was the president of the Indiana Pharmacy Company, of this city, stated that he (the plaintiff) had a son who had studied pharmacy and would like to have him given a position as bookkeeper in Colonel Barnett's company. Mrs. Barnett wrote to her husband about the matter and Mize and his son came to Indianapolis. that combines an ordinary pair of scissors with one that will make the little slits in the cloth and will avert all necessity for laying down one of the tools of the seam-This arrangement, which is made plain by the accompanying picture, consists of a pair of scissors which can be used in ordinary cutting, to the handle of which is affixed a peculiarly shaped cutting blade which will do the buttonhole work in an instant when the cloth is placed beneath it. There is no danger of its being mislaid or lost, for the worker has it ever before her, as she does the other cutting necessary

Reception This Afternoon.

A farewell reception will be tendered Mrs Robert S. Osgood, wife of the minister who recently resigned the pastorate of the Mayflower Congregational Church, this afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. B. Hobbs, 1909 North New Jersey street. The reception, leaves at 11:15 p. m. For points south of Frank-which will be informal, will follow a meeting of the Ladies' Missionary Society of the church. The programme for the meeting includes a paper on missionary work in the State of Washington, while Mrs. Osgood will tell of a recent trip she made to that Mr. Osgood has accepted the pastorate of a church in Bells Plains, Ia., and has already departed for his new field, Mrs. Wayne avenue, is being redecorated and re-

> As shown by the records of the postoffice, 270 money orders were issued Monday, most of them for the purpose of paying Marion county taxes. The attention of the public was called a few days ago by Assistant Postmaster Shideler to the fact that where a man did not have a bank account he could purchase a money order and send it to the treasurer, and in this way he would not be nips may have had a basis of fact after all. -National Guard-Removal of Officer .-

lieving an officer from his command as colonel of a regiment in the State National Guard for the good of the service, without a trial or hearing on charges preferred, was not a ministerial act, but constituted an exercise of the Governor's discretion, which would not be controlled by mandamus. Nor did it constitute a removal of the officer from his office, within the meaning of a United States statute, providing that no offiin time of peace be dismissed from the service, except on and in pursuance of a sentence of a court-martial.
